BENSON - SACRE ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Benson of Bethel are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Lorraine, to Victor E. Sacre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sacre of 403 Summer St., Auburn.

Miss Benson was graduated from Gould Academy in Bethel, and was also graduated from Bliss College, Lewiston, in 1961. She is now employed in the office of the Lewiston Welding Company.

A graduate of Edward Little High School, Mr. Sacre served four years with the U.S. Navy and is currently employed as manager at Sacre's Economy Store, Lewiston.

TO HOLD YOUTH RALLIES IN BANGOR AND PORTLAND SATURDAY

Hundreds of Maine junior and senior high young people will participate on Nov. 11 in rallies sponsored by the Youth Committee of the Maine Council of Churches in Bangor and Portland, and open to all church youth and their adult leaders.

Held annually in the fall for church youth from grades 7 through 12, the rallies last year were so largely attended it has seemed advisable to hold two for each age group. The First Baptist Church, Bangor, and Central Square Baptist Church, Portland, will be hosts to the senior high youth, whose program will be centered around the theme, "Responsible Christian Freedom in Love and Life." At each place, a panel of four persons will open the discussion of the theme, with small group discussions following.

At each senior high rally, a closing inspirational message will be given, at Bangor the speaker being Rev. Ronald E. Mosley, D. D. of Bar Harbor, and at Portland, Rev. Bernard D. Alderman, Livermore Falls.

Reason is nothing but the analysis of belief.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

DISCOMFORT INDEX

A citizen is not necessarily opposed to scientific progress because he objects to specific modern contraptions. It has been difficult enough for the countryman to adjust to the modern stove with its bells, gongs, sirens, whistles and autopilot knobs that start and stop an oven by ultra violet rays. A middle-aged man understood the capacious, polished, woodburning stove with its warming oven above, and porcelain-lined water tank on the rear.

Now a company has developed a complex machine that will measure human discomfort. It is reported to be the first of its kind in the world, and doubtless will be imitated in another example of high-level, modern living.

This is a "secret reading device." It is "capable of telling you just how uncomfortable you are on a hot, muggy summer day." Perhaps it will also tell a man how cold he is on a zero-day in winter, when the wind is blowing a gale as he comes down across the upland pasture after chopping wood in the upper woodlot.

The countryman is definitely opposed to the idea. When he is cutting ice on a bitter day to insure a cold milk trough next summer and enough of the cold stuff to make a few batches of hand-cracked ice cream, he knows he is uncomfortable. On a hot summer day when he is boeing his Golden Bantams corn and red kidney beans, the moisture dripping from his nose is proof of the situation.

And if a machine registered his high discomfort when he is storing hay under the eaves of the barn on a blistering July day, he would be tempted to stop his labors. We think the time has arrived for the scientists to stop telling us so much about ourselves or we will be more uncomfortable than we now are.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

As a subscriber to "The Bethel Citizen," I read the article "The American Way-The Conservative Movement" by Willie E. Stone, with some shock—particularly in view of the fact that the other side of the issue was completely ignored.

The type of thinking which surrounds this "Americanism" movement is not conservative in any true sense of the word but radical and unrealistic.

Is it "American" to be living in the 1880's instead of the 1960's? Is it American to believe that a Constitution written by some of the most daring, forward-looking people of their generation can not be interpreted freely to meet the needs of our generation? If it were not possible to so interpret, we would have had many more Civil Wars in our history and probably many more constitutions.

Is it American to believe falsely that our population still lives in strong family groups in small rural towns surrounded by security so certain that Social Security and medical insurance, even for the aged, are superfluous?

Is it American to believe that a kid is a waste of money when any knowledgeable person knows that Communism thrives on hunger, poverty and chaos?

Is it American to believe that states should be left alone to do as they please, happily polluting their rivers and strengthening their minorities in-to submission?

Is it American to believe that everyone who disagrees with you is dangerous and should be silenced effectively by being labeled Communist, a label leading to probable loss of job and prestige? The ultra-conservative movement in question believes these things to be American.

We are living in a land of opportunity where the working classes have homes of their own.

The meeting was held at 3:30 p.m. at the home of the leader, Mrs. Rodney Ross Project No. 14, with Alice McElroy, Elizabeth, Debbie Carpenter, Linda Hartell, Joyce, Diane Farmer, Anna Cross, Diane Farmer, Shirley Morgan, Marie Groat, and Noreen Swan.

There were 23 members and one guest present this Sunday. The shapeliness for next week's dance for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades will be Randy Chretien, Matty Brooks, Reggie Brown, and Cindy Freeman.

own and luxuries beyond the imaginations of their forbears. We can AFFORD to pay our income taxes and GLADLY if it means helping our fellow countrymen feel more secure and have more advantages—no matter what their color or religion, if it means encouraging economic growth abroad so that Communism's threat will be lessened and, selfishly, so that we will have better export markets, if it means better conservation of our national resources.

I am proud to pay an income tax in such a country. I have no fear of bureaucrats as long as I keep well-informed about what is going on. I am proud of America—her conservatives and her liberals—her differences of opinion—her blacks and her whites. I am GLAD to be living in the twentieth century.

I pray that in our desire to save democracy we do not stamp out freedom rather than totalitarianism.

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, November 9:

Read Isaiah 26:1-9;
John 14:25-31

My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. (John 14:27)

Peace! How we all long and pray for it in this distracted world! For years the cold war has been fomenting hatred, malice, and all uncharitableness.

Many conferences, attended by leading statesmen of the nations, have been held; and very little has been accomplished.

Arms are still being piled up, while millions of people are underfed and suffering.

Why all this unrest, this suspicion, this jealousy? It is because nations and individuals do not acknowledge Jesus, the Prince of Peace, as their Lord. They are not willing to submit themselves to His rule, to obey His teaching.

He came to this world to make peace. By His atoning death on the cross, He has made it possible for men to have peace with God—to know the peace of sin forgiven, the peace of reconciliation, the peace of fellowship with God.

The Prince of Peace says to us, as He said to His disciples long ago, "My peace I give unto you."

PRAYER: O God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, rosy Thy divine peace keep our hearts and minds in the knowledge of Thee and of Thy will. Help us to be Thy peacemakers among men; through Thy Son our Savior we offer our prayer. Amen.

Thought For The Day

God keeps in perfect peace those whose minds are stayed on Him. —W. P. Hares (England)

Nationalization of enterprise means the death of freedom and thrift. More than this, control of men's lives begins with control of means of livelihood.

SPACE STOCKS

Last week we attended the Space Show at the New York Coliseum and had an opportunity to view some of the exhibits of the various companies that participated. It may be of interest to note that such companies as American Telephone, Iroquois Chemical, General Electric, General Motors, General Telephone, Goodyear, Hercules Powder, IBM, Johns Manville, Minneapolis-Honeywell, National Lead, Standard Oil of N. J., Texaco and Union Carbide had exhibits at this show.

Of these companies we believe that American Telephone, Hercules Powder Co., and Minneapolis Honeywell have probably the biggest stake.

PINE TREE COUNCIL'S BOY SCOUTS EXPECTED TO INCREASE BY 1500

The success of the current "Strengthen America Round-up" indicates a rapidly growing Boy Scout membership in the Pine Tree Council according to Clinton E. Rose, Scout Executive.

Large numbers of boys are responding to the opportunity to join Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Units in their communities, according to Mr. Rose. They are visiting Scout unit open houses, and going along as guests on hikes and trips and applying for membership.

The roundup membership drive now being carried out by the council is a result of the recent increase of interest in Scouting by boys in this area. The 420 Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Units served by the Pine Tree Council are holding special events under the "Strengthen America...Character Counts" slogan, and opening their ranks to new members.

The "roundup," which began in October, will climax in December, according to Mr. Rose as the new members are inducted in special ceremonies with their parents attending.

Stars of the future are being presented on the stage of the Stephens High School Auditorium on Wednesday, Nov. 15, by the Rumford Community Concert Association. Four young professionals, who show every sign of attaining the summit of artistic and popular acclaim in the near future comprise the Golden Curtain Quartet.

Taking its name from the famous Metropolitan Opera House gold curtain, the quartet is made up of young artists who have already attained the first milestone along the way to top operatic careers; all are winners or finalists in the highly competitive Metropolitan auditions held annually.

She starred as a vocal soloist at the Radio City Music Hall, where her blonde, blue-eyed charm drew praise as well as her singing.

Lovely, dark-eyed mezzo-soprano Louise Pearl came to the finals of the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air by way of Broadway, where she appeared in Li'l Abner and Portofino. On television, she has been seen
